TITLE: Codified ordinances

DATES: 1881-

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological by year, thereunder numerical by chapter or title
DESCRIPTION:

As the governing body of Beaver City, the Mayor and City Council enact their legislative power through the creation of ordinances. An ordinance may "regulate, require, prohibit, govern, control or supervise any activity, business, conduct or condition [as] authorized" by the Utah Code (UCA, 2003, 10-3-701-702). According to its minutes, the City Council began discussing the codification of ordinances in March 1881. For an outside cost of $220.00 they would be revised, rewritten, arranged and proof-read before being published and distributed. Though the resulting edition did not survive, the rest of the minutes themselves frequently include drafts of new or revised ordinances over the ensuing years. When codified, each ordinance under a chapter (1982) or title and chapter (2000) has a section number, a short title and the body which includes detailed instructions for the particular cause, action and possible result if broken. Over the years, ordinances have regulated the setup of municipal government, business licensing, public health, traffic, utilities and zoning.

TITLE: Council minutes

DATES: 1880-

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological according to date of entry.

DESCRIPTION:

This series contains the minutes to meetings of the Beaver City Council. The City Council is the legislative and governing body of the city. It discusses and manages the business of the city. The Council has traditionally met in regular session two times each month, with special sessions called as needed (UCA 2002 10-3-502). Often in attendance at the meetings is the City Manager, while the City Recorder takes the minutes. The minutes, which are approved and signed by the mayor and city recorder, describe who is in attendance and issues discussed each time.
